Numb. 5256

The Daily Courant.

Thursday, July 17, 1718.

From the Amst. Courant, dated July 22.

Belgrade, July 1.

THE Men of War that have lain hitherto in the Save, sail'd two Days ago into the Danube, to Visniza, where they have anchor'd, in Order to be the better cover'd from the stormy Winds. Yesterday the 2 Saxon Regiments of Foot arriv'd in the Army near Semlin, and the Lieutenant Field Marshal the Duke of Saxe Weissenfels, came hither. The three Regiments of Saxon Cavalry are also expected every Day. General Count Merci is again gone to take a Turn to the Ban of Temeswaer, to give some Orders there. All the Recruits and Horses of Remount for the Regiments are now arrived in the Camp, and the Army is in a very fine Condition. The Advices from the Enemy's Quarters bring no other News, than that the Grand Vizier was in Motion towards Nissa, and the Aga of the Janizaries with his Infantry, towards Widin, where the Turkish Fleet of Men of War are to assemble. In the mean time, the Treaty at Passarowitz is so far advanc'd that 'tis not doubted it will soon be sign'd.

Buda, July 5. The bad Weather which we have had of late being abated, the Electoral Prince of Bavaria's Ship and the rest of the Barks belonging to him, sail'd forward on the 30th past for the Army, but the Wind changing the next Day, and continuing so the Day following, they could not far advance. We expect the said Prince with his Brother Prince Ferdinand every Day, in order to pass from hence by Post to the Army. The late stormy Weather has done so much Damage to the Fruits of the Earth, that the Inhabitants will hardly be able to recover the Loss.

Ratisbon, July 9. The Saxon Envoy having desired all the Protestant Envoys to meet him at the Stadthouse on Saturday last, he remonstrated to them by a Writing, that the King of Poland his Master had given to his Subjects of the Protestant Religion full Satisfaction for the Security of their Religion, and had given his Royal and Electoral Word, that the same shall be strictly observ'd by himself and his Heirs. And whereas the Directorium of the Protestant Affairs has always been annex'd to the Electoral Saxon Voice, and that the same Voice in the Diets, both of the Empire and the Circle, shall be always Protestant; the King his Master therefore no ways doubts, that the Protestant States will lay aside the groundless Jealousies which they have hitherto entertain'd, and rest assur'd, that his Majesty will do every thing that is in his Power for the Satisfaction and Security of the Protestant Body of the Empire; and hopes, that hereupon such Instructions may come from the Evangelical Courts, that upon the occasional Requests of the Saxon Envoys, the Protestant Conferences will hereafter be held as usual, &c. The Evangelical Ministers have desir'd Copies of this Remonstrance, and the Extracts thereto annex'd, in Order to deliberate further thereupon.

Baden, July 14. The Secretary of the French Ambassy, M. Martinette, having notify'd to the General Assembly of the Cantons at Baden, that the Marquis d'Avery could not be present at it, the said General Assembly has been held without him; and is now concluded without any thing remarkable transacted therein, because the late concluded Treaty of Peace of the Abbot of St. Gall with the Cantons of Zurich and Bern was not yet ratify'd. But we understand, that the said Abbot with most of the Canons being assembled at New Ravenspurg, have resolv'd to send the Ratification forthwith; so that it is expected the Ratifications will in return be made on the part of the two Cantons of Zurich and Bern without delay.

From the Amst. Courant, dated July 23.

Francfort, July 16. The Count de Hanaw return'd to the City of his Residence last Wednesday. This Day there is a strong Report that a Conference will be held at Giessen, upon the Difference concerning Hirschfels, in order to find out an Expedient for accommodating that Affair. The Count de Wargenstein, Imperial Colonel, being come hither from the Army near Semlin, relates that at his departure, the Peace with the Turks was as good as concluded.

Hamburgh, July 19. The freshest Letters from Dantzick mention, that the Lords of that City put off the delivery of the Frigates demanded by the Russians as long as they can, to avoid giving distast to the King of Sweden; and in hopes that the Peace between that King and the Czar will in the mean time be concluded. But the Russian Troops, in the mean time, advance apace towards that City, some of their Baggage Waggons being already arrived there. We hear nothing fresh from the Island of Aland, concerning the Treaty with the Swedes. Advices from Mecklemburg inform us, that the Duke has caus'd it to be declar'd from the Pulpits, that all the Noblemen who are withdrawn, and have not appear'd at the Assembly of the States which he convok'd, shall be deemed Deserters of their lawful Sovereign, and Enemies to the Welfare of their Country, and consequently, not to be admitted any more into the Land; and that therefore, no Harbour or Succour is to be given to them, but they shall be look'd upon as Rebels, and shall be treated as such when-ever they appear in that Country. And it was also further declar'd, that the Wives of such

Noblemen,

Noblemen, who by Vertue of the Fortunes they brought, or by their Marriage Settlements, have any Claims to make upon the Estates, either for themselves or for their Children, must declare it to the Government, where Order is taken to provide for them. 'Tis from hence concluded, that the Duke is resolv'd to stand it out to the last Extremity; which is the more strange, in Regard that the Czar has assur'd the Emperour, that he will in no manner engage himself in that Duke's Affairs, otherwise than to advise him to conform to the Emperour's Admonitions. The Danish Troops will march out of Wismar the 21st, and a Bridge of Boats being laid upon the Dreave, they will pass over that River.

Honorato Fornello, Gent. no Physician, his most excellent Dissolution-Salt for the Gravel and Stone, is sold by Mr. Tho. Dowse, Perfumer, in Grace-Church-street, and at Mr. Robert Perry's, Perfumer, at the West end of Exeter Change the House of the Windmill, London, and no where else; as you may see further at large by the Directions where it is sold. Mr. Joh. Shorey, Gun-maker, in Lombard-street under the Church, hereby desired to be inserted in this Paper, to testify to the World what benefit he has found by it, and has voided several Stones as large as Kidney Beans.

Many Persons whose Houses and Beds are infected with Bugs, insomuch that some have been forced to leave their Houses, and others Summer after Summer have taken down their Beds to wash and scower them, to their great Trouble and Charge, but receive little or no Benefit thereby, that poysonous Insect still remaining; may have them clear'd as the Beds are airing, (by a Fume affecting all Places and Crannies, which nothing else can do) The Person may be heard of at Mr. Parker's, a Printer, at the Bull and Bible in Salisbury-Court in Fleetstreet.

The Empress of China's Majisterial Dentifrice, or Royal Indian Teeth-Powder, which is a Thing so Beautiful, Odoriferous, and Fine, that in all the Cities of Europe there is rarely found any thing comparable to it. It makes the Teeth White like the driven Snow in a Moment, and the Breath Sweet, like the Scent of the Musk-Rose and Violet. It cleanses the whole Mouth from the Scurvy and all Filth, and preserves the Teeth from all Decay, Looseness, and ill Smell. It refixes the Gums, giving them and the Lips an admirable Coralline Luster; and by imbuing the Mouth with its lovely and transporting Flavour, it gives Airs and Charms to the Countenance also, as many Noblemen and Ladies have observed, to their exceeding great Satisfaction. It is indeed a thing fit for Princes. Sold in fine Indian Boxes, price 1 s. 6 d. each, at John's Coffee-house in Swithin's-Alley by the Royal Exchange, and at the Flower-de Luce, an Herb-Shop, in Covent-Garden Market.

Famous Drops for Hypocondriack Melancholly: Which effectually cure on the Spot, by rectifying the Blood, much and Blood, cleansing them from all Impurities, and giving a new Turn to their Ferment, attenuating all vicious tenacious Humours (which make the Head heavy, clog the Spirits, confuse the Mind, and cause the deepest Melancholly, with direful Views and black Reflections) comforting the Brain and Nerves, composing the Animal Thoughts, and introducing brisk lively Ideas and pleasant Prospects instead of dismal Apprehensions and dark Incumbrance of the Soul, setting the Intellectuals at Liberty to act with Courage, Serenity, and steady Chearfulness, and causing a visible diffusive Joy to reign in the Room of uneasy Doubts, Fears, &c. for which they are truly esteem'd infallible. Price 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with Directions. Sold only at Mr. Bell's, Bookseller, at the Cross-Keys and Bible in Cornhill near the Royal-Exchange.
